

Ed Evans
1st Vice President
Tennessee Federation

Ed Evans is currently serving as the Tennessee Federation 1st Vice President representing the 10 NARFE Chapters of Middle Tennessee on the Federation Executive Board. He is a U.S. Marine Corps retiree of 30 years, a U. S. Army Corps of Engineers federal civilian retiree of 17 years, and finally a retired Minister of the Disciples of Christ Church after 10 years. He says he hasn't figured out how to really retire yet.

However, Ed Evans is committed to the alliance of federal retirees, and his Masters in Organizational Management from Trevecca Nazarene University in Nashville, helps him in promoting that aspect of taking care of one another, and keeping everyone informed and focused on protecting the financial and medical benefits we earned as part of our federal retirement. He also received his Bachelor of Arts from Trevecca Nazarene, but like a lot of "traveling" military guys, some of his on-campus credits came from Syracuse University, American University, University of Maryland, and South Carolina University.

Ed resides with his wife Merilyn, who is currently serving as the Tennessee Federation Secretary, in Nashville.
